

THE AMERICAN JOURNAL OF HUMAN GENETICS

Established in 1948, the AJHG is one of the leading journals addressing the central issues in contemporary genetics. The Journal—which is the official publication of The American Society of Human Genetics—provides a record of research and review relating to heredity in man and to the application of genetic principles in medicine, psychology, anthropology, and the social sciences as well as in related areas of molecular and cell biology. Editor: Dr. David E. Comings.

For the physician, the medical geneticist, the research biologist

In its research articles, review articles, addresses, editorials, and abstracts of papers presented at the annual meeting of the Society, AJHG explores:

- behavioral genetics
- biochemical genetics
- clinical genetics
- cytogenetics
- dysmorphology
- genetic counseling
- immunogenetics
- population genetics
- epidemiology
